A BRILLIANT EVENT.

THE BARD-MCGREW MARRIAGE AT LEXINGTON.

One of the Greatest Society Events of the Year—Magnificent Presentation—The Reception.

The aristocratic old town of Lexington, Mo., was bright with flowers and lights last night. The beauty and the chivalry from all parts of the state had assembled to witness the brilliant nuptials of Mr. Wm. E. Bard, jr., of Sedalia, and Miss Mazee McGrew, of Lexington. There was a flash of jewels worthy the ransom of a king, together with the perfume of blooming flowers and the soft strains of hidden music.

Mr. Bard is the eldest son of Mr. Wm. E. Bard, sr., one of Sedalia's most prominent business men, and is known throughout the state as a gentleman of eminent business ability, and has ever been prominent in the society circles of the city. He is a young man worthy the hand of any woman, and it can be truthfully said that the stars never shone upon a more auspicious union.

A more queenly bride was never led to the altar than the lovely girl whom gallant Will Bard made happy forever. Miss McGrew is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McGrew, who are numbered amongst the wealthiest and most prominent families of the state. Miss McGrew is a peerless beauty with a wealth of raven hair, wondrous dark eyes and a complexion that would suggest a dash of Castilian blood in her veins. Her perfections of mind and heart are even greater than her beauty of face and form; she is a princess of the old southern regime and the young man who has her love can wish for no greater happiness.

The ceremony took place in the First Baptist church and was performed by the pastor, Rev. W. I. Cole, in a manner most elegant in its simplicity and impressiveness. The altar was a mass of flowers and ferns. Over all was a magnificent arch whose greenness of verdure suggested eternal youth. From the arch hung suspended a yoke of small white chrysanthemums bearing the letters "B" and "M." Magnificent yellow chrysanthemums were scattered throughout the edifice in lavish profusion and many of the guests in honor of the occasion carried clusters of the rich and beautiful flowers. The special seats for the families and immediate friends were surrounded by a broad band of yellow ribbon, the distinguishing color of the occasion.

Promptly at 7 o'clock the immense pipe organ began to peal forth Mendelssohn's grand wedding march. The bridal party slowly entered the church down either aisle; along the left aisle passed four bridesmaids and their attendant groomsmen; along the right, the same; all arranging themselves in a semi-circle in the center of which were to stand the bride and groom. Then came two charming little flower girls, Miss Mozelle Price, of St. Louis, and Miss Nadine Steele, of Lexington, followed by two handsome pages, Masters James McGrew, jr., and Manville Chinn; the flower girls preceding the maid of honor and the pages the gentleman of honor—Miss Estella McGrew, the bride's sister, and Mr. Taylor Blow, of St. Louis. Last came the bride and groom. Arriving at the altar, the bride and groom joined hands and, as the pastor slowly pronounced the marriage bans, a quietness came over the house, in keeping with the solemn vows that made Miss Mazee McGrew and Mr. Wm. E. Bard man and wife. The maid of honor carried the wedding ring upon a white silk cushion. The gentleman of honor received the ring and gave it to the groom who placed it upon the finger of the bride. The ceremony was accompanied by the organ and at its close the newly married couple passed down the right aisle followed by their attendants, all of whom proceeded at once to the magnificent home of the bride's parents on South street.

The bridesmaids and groomsmen were, Miss Adine Glenn, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mr. E. J. McGrew, of Lexington; Miss Lilly Glenn, of Nashville, and Mr. L. L. Ilgenfritz, of Sedalia; Miss Chew, of St. Louis, and Mr. Lynn Banks, of Kansas City; Miss Maude Burden, of Lexington; and Dr. O. B. Caldwell, of Sedalia; Miss Lucy Harper, of Kansas City, and

Mr. R. B. Barrett, of Sedalia; Miss Riddle Aull, of Lexington, and Mr. Richard Morey, of Sedalia; Miss Laura Ireland, of Lexington, and Charles Bard, of Sedalia; Miss Julia Neale, of Lexington, and Mr. A. L. Burr, of Sedalia.

The ushers were Messrs. Emerson Chanslor, E. M. McCausland, J. R. Moorehead and Leroy Farmer, all of Lexington.

The bride wore a handsome bridal gown of duchess satin, made princess with long wattleau train, finished across the front with cable trimming, surplice neck trimmed with point duchess lace, long sleeves, no gloves. The bridal veil was worn gracefully over the face, falling in fleecy beauty down the back on the train. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Her jewels were solitaire diamond earrings and slender chain with diamond pendant.

The maid of honor, the bride's sister, Miss Estelle McGrew, a petite blonde with sparkling brown eyes, looked charming in an empire gown of white crepe; bell skirt with demitrain, round neck bodice with bertha of white chiffon; long sleeves trimmed at the hand with chiffon. She wore a short veil of white tulle, pinned gracefully to her light brown hair, with pearl pins. In her hands she carried a white satin pillow, trimmed with white ribbons, in the center of which rested the wedding ring; bouquet of white chrysanthemums, diamond ornaments. The bridesmaids were all similarly attired in primrose silk gowns, made bell skirt with demitrain, round neck bodice with bertha of white lace, long sleeves. They each were crowned with wreaths of tiny yellow flowers. Hand bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The little flower girls, Mozelle Price, of St. Louis, Mo., Nadine Steele, Lexington, were both dressed in yellow china silk trimmed with white lace, yellow satin slippers. They carried small baskets filled with yellow chrysanthemums.

The little pages, James McGrew, brother of the bride, and Manville Chinn, wore page costumes of black velvet with yellow silk waist. The castle home of the bride's parents was ablaze with light. It is a perfect palace in its costly furnishings, there being few homes in the west that can rival its magnificence. The guests were received in a most hospitable manner by Mr. and Mrs. McGrew and the large parlors were filled to overflowing. An orchestra hidden in an alcove discoursed delightful music throughout the entire evening. The bridal party stood in the west parlor where the newly married couple received the congratulations of their countless friends. The reception rooms throughout were beautifully decorated with roses, chrysanthemums, palms and ferns. The banquet hall was also adorned with flowers; refreshments were served during the entire evening.

One of the pretty incidents of the evening was the throwing of the ring by the bride as she stood on the stairway, smiling upon the upturned faces of the bridesmaids below her. In a large cluster of white cut roses was an elegant diamond ring, which was to fall to the lot of her who was fortunate enough to catch the rose to the stem of which the ring was tied. The roses were thrown high in the air and, as they fell in a shower of perfume, the ring came into the hand of Miss Lilly Glenn, of Nashville.

There were many prominent guests present from all parts of the country. The costumes of the ladies were dreams of loveliness and many magnificent jewels were worn.

The large dancing hall contained the wedding presents displayed on tables, which were weighted with gold, silver, pearl and bronze. The presents are a fortune in themselves, one of the most beautiful and costly being a large set of gold spoons, with knife, for ices, a present from the gentleman of honor, Mr. Taylor Blow.

At 10:15 o'clock the bride and groom, accompanied by many friends, took the special train for Sedalia where they had reserved passage on the midnight train for St. Louis. They will remain at the Southern hotel for several days visiting in the city, after which they go to Chicago. They will return to Sedalia in about ten days and expect to commence housekeeping at their new home, corner of Sixth street and Grand avenue, about January 1st.

The special train from Sedalia contained a baggage car and coach to which was attached private car No. 49, in which was General Superintendent J. J. Frey and party.

Among those who attended from Sedalia were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bard, sr., Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Morey, Mrs. Dr. Marsh, Tipton, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Maltby, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell McFarlane, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Messerly, Mrs. W. H. Garton, Nevada; Mrs. M. E. Talbot, Nevada; Misses Lillian Warren, of Springfield, Ill.; Marguerite Walker, of Pleasant Green, Mo.; Louise Houston, Marshall, Mo.; Carrie Hinsdale, Stella Montgomeria, Lillie and Fannie Bard, Laura Morey, Lula Withers, Isabel Daniel, Emma Longan, Blanche Latour, Messrs. H. C. Scott, Harry Espenscheid, A. F. Goodwin, Walter Morey, Lee Bard, Dr. Bear, Jack Gibbs, Tom Courtney and others.

OFFICIAL VOTE

How Missouri Voted at the Late Election.

Special to the Democrat.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 23.—At last the official vote at the late election has been announced. It is as follows:

For president: Cleveland, 268,628; Harrison, 226,762; Weaver, 41,183; Bidwell, 4,295.

For governor: Stone, 265,144; Warner, 235,354; Leonard, 37,276; Sobieski, 3,393.

For supreme judge: McFarlane, 267,375; Sherwood, 266,266; Burgess, 265,735; Edwards, 228,155; Shirk, 264,817; Nagle, 229,053.

CASHIER GONE.

The Armour Packing Company the Victim This Time.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Considerable stir was created to-day by the announcement that Cashier Sinclair of the New York branch of the Armour Packing company, is missing and that he is short in his accounts thirty thousand dollars.

SERIOUSLY ILL.

Emperor William of Germany in Danger.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—Emperor William was taken seriously ill this morning. It is difficult to obtain exact information as to the nature of the illness.

Peace Assured.

ROME, Italy, Nov. 23.—King Humbert opened parliament in person this morning. In his address he expressed the opinion that peace was assured by the triple alliance.

Thanksgiving Offerings.

The pupils of the public schools brought Thanksgiving offerings of food, clothing and money to-day and the poor and needy of the city will be well provided for to-morrow. The contributions made an immense amount of provisions. The young folks are to be complimented for the goodness and it is to be hoped that throughout their lives they will ever have a tender spot in their hearts for the poor and unfortunate.

En Route to the Pen.

Deputy Marshals J. B. McGowan and R. V. Freeman, of Kansas City, passed through at noon on their way to Jefferson City where they were taking four prisoners.

Tom Jones, colored, goes three years for burglary.

Bill Smith, a tough looking white fellow, goes five years for forgery.

Chas. Jackson and Jim Wilson four years each for attempted burglary.

Sattley-Neckirk.

At 8 o'clock this evening Mr. E. C. Sattley, of Kansas City, will wed Miss Ida Belle Neckirk. The ceremony will be performed at the Broadway Presbyterian church, Rev. J. Ross Stevenson officiating.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception will be held at the beautiful home of the bride, on Broadway.

Police Court.

There were ten charges of vagrancy, three drunks and one peace disturbance in court this morning. The "vags" were the result of a general round up by the police last night of all suspicious characters. The charges were contested in every instance and the whole day consumed in trying the cases.

Since the Election.

We have picked up some homes at forced sales, and can sell you a beautiful place for less than cost. Come see us. We write FIRE INSURANCE, buy and sell REAL ESTATE, BONDS, MORTGAGES, NOTES AND LOAN MONEY. Woodfin & Thatcher.

BIELA'S COMET.

EARTH AND COMET APPROACHING THE SAME POINT.

A Great Sight, But No Danger to the People on Earth From the Visitor.

Comets, those strange wanderers through space, are always viewed with interest, and sometimes with awe by the superstitious, but the visitor now to be seen in the heavens is regarded with more than ordinary attention. The following will be read with interest:

Biela's great comet and the earth pass the same given spot on the night of November 27.

If they should encounter each other—a remote contingency—it would occasion the direst calamity.

"If the tail of a comet," says Gregory, "reached our atmosphere, or if any part of the matter which composes that tail spread over the heavens and fall upon it by its own weight the resulting effluvia would work material changes for man and plants, for it is indisputable that changes brought from regions so distant and strange and excited by so mightily a heat would be deadly to everything on earth and would occasion the direst calamities.

These, however, are merely speculations. While it would be possible for the earth and the comet, or its tail, to come into collision, it is regarded as extremely improbable that any such thing will happen. Experience has shown that Biela's comet would get the worst of it if it came too close, and that the chances for a meeting between the two are very slender. At the same time, as the two have to pass the same given spot on the night of the 27th, there may produce some interesting results.

The great comet has now come into the field of vision so that it may be seen with the naked eye. From this time on it will grow larger and larger until, if the predictions of the astronomers be correct, it will be the most conspicuous object in the heavens. The comet's position at present is in the constellation Andromeda.

Some scientists believe that Biela's comet did not explode of its own volition in 1845, but assert that in its wild flight through space it must have struck a star and ricocheted off towards the earth, that the force of the collision broke it all up. Gregory, Laplace and Whiston have shown what would be the effects of such a contact in the case of the earth, and the assertion has been made that it was the conjunction of the earth with a comet which caused the deluge.

Official Paper of the City of Sedalia.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Patrons of the EVENING DEMOCRAT will confer a favor upon the management by promptly reporting any irregularity in delivery or bad condition of paper from improper handling.

ANSWER TO MY ADVT IN

THE EVENING DEMOCRAT.

"I would earnestly advise them for their good to order this paper to be punctually served up and to be looked upon as a part of the tea equipage."—ADDISON.

CIRCULATION.

There are more Sedalia people regular readers of the EVENING DEMOCRAT than any other paper.

THE cabinet builders should learn a lesson from Grover Cleveland, and take a few weeks' needed rest.

THE democratic plurality is not as large as it should have been, but it is large enough to cause Major William Warner to sit down for awhile.

POSTMASTER DEMUTH is putting up storm doors at the main entrance to the postoffice. He expects heavy and continuous gales after the fourth of March.

THE Gazette is unnecessarily alarmed at the prospect of erecting a crematory to burn the filth of the city. The Gazette's burning will occur in the next world, if newspapers have souls.

THE Gazette seems to have an especial spite against the rising young men of the democratic party and never misses an opportunity to say a mean thing about them. It calls Col. Lon V. Stephens a "second John Sherman in the financial world." This insult to Col. Stephens calls for coffee and pistols.

OUR morning contemporary is unfair in its treatment of the police force. That paper admits that a force of seven policemen is entirely inadequate to a city the size of Sedalia, and then in the next breath denounces those seven men because they do not arrest all criminals before crime is committed. Such a course looks very much like the paper had a personal grudge against the policemen.

THE DEMOCRAT does not know whether Sedalia needs a crematory or not, or whether the one offered is worth the money asked for it. But it is certain that the sanitary conditions of the city should be improved. That sewerage connections, where possible, should be required; that the streets and alleys should be thoroughly cleaned and kept clean, and that every property owner who permits a nuisance on his premises to endanger the health of his neighbors should be fined. All this must be done if we would ward off the danger of an epidemic next spring. Typhoid fever and cholera are more dangerous than foot-pads or highwaymen, and medical men agree that filth invites the spread of both these diseases. This is not intended to be an argument in favor of a crematory, but in favor of a rigid enforcement of all ordinances intended to preserve the health of the city and for the enactment of such additional ordinances as may be necessary.

PUSH FORWARD.
During the past few years Sedalia has made great improvements in her streets.

The average visitor is struck with the appearance of the paved streets as soon as he enters the town, and at once concludes that he has found an intelligent, progressive and enterprising people.

While this is the deliberate judgment of the visitor, the property owner, who paid the tax-bills, is satisfied, for he finds that a well paved street pays a big interest on its cost in the increase in the value of property as well as in comfort and convenience of those who travel such thoroughfares.

But now that we have so many of the principal streets paved, would it not be the part of wisdom and economy to begin macadamizing those cross streets connecting the main thoroughfares?

Many of these streets that need some kind of improvement can hardly afford the more costly brick or improved telford pavement, but could well afford the cheaper macadam.

To improve the cross streets would prevent the accumulation of mud on the paved thoroughfares and add greatly to their appearance as well as their value.

Sedalia must take a step in this direction in order to enjoy the greatest advantage from money already expended.

And then the matter of sidewalks needs attention.

An old dilapidated plank walk with here and there a plank missing and in many cases on a level with the street and flooded by every rain, is not exactly the thing for the Queen City.

There is nothing enterprising, progressive or queenly about it.

And yet there are just such sidewalks on some of our principal thoroughfares, and they are eyesores, disease breeders, and liable to involve the city in damage suits for broken limbs any night.

The city authorities cannot alone accomplish the needed improvements. It must be done, if done at all, by public sentiment just as the streets have been paved and other improvements brought about.

DELAY IS DANGEROUS.

THE DEMOCRAT was one of the first newspapers to urge that an extra session of congress be called next spring and the tariff laws be amended and reformed on the lines proposed by the democratic party in the last campaign.

Some of the party leaders doubted the wisdom or necessity of such a course; others, who had waxed eloquent in denouncing protection during the campaign, ridiculed the subject as one not worthy of serious attention.

Every day, however, the ranks of those who advocate an extra session, and a frank, manly fulfillment of the promises of the party, become stronger.

The Kansas City Times, the organ of the democracy of Western Missouri, makes the following unanswerable argument in favor of holding the extra session:

"History should warn the democratic party to propose and carry through its tariff changes without delay. History would even point to an extra session of congress as the wisest way to do it. Wiser because sooner. The public is conservative. It will shy at the new and experimental. It must be fully taught and posted in the theory of any legislative novelties proposed, or it hesitates—and, hesitating many times, declines. Good politics would not suggest any radical departure from existing conditions just before an election. That sort of thing takes away the public breath and is the best rule possible for inviting a party stampede. And there is nothing about which the public goes so warily as a tariff measure.

Nothing about which it will so strenuously insist on knowing all before it will consent.

The republicans popped in the McKinley bill just before an election and the house stood 200 democrats to 90 McKinleyites. The democrats took a tariff shoot four years ago just prior to a presidential contest and the democrats lost. The moral is: You must begin soon enough and give the people time.

These experiences would suggest an extra session. Unless one is called no serious changes of the tariff can even be begun before January, 1894. And what with filibustering and legislative delay, it will be January, 1895, before a law is passed. That is too late. During all this time, too, the present McKinley prohibitory law will be driving imports away and money from the public purse, and allowing the government to run from $70,000,000 to $100,000,000 behind. The public will not understand that either. What with a deficit growling at the treasury door; what with a public to educate as to the merits of actual changes when proposed, the sooner congress gets to work on a tariff bill the better. Promptness would be good politics. And good politics means good government."

ENFORCING LAW.

There are some things the people of Sedalia ought to know in connection with the enforcement of the laws in this town.

One of these things is that there is a constant and studied effort on the part of the Gazette to misrepresent Mayor Stevens and to make him appear as the friend of evil doers and a shield to the violators of the law.

This is unfair and unjust to an officer who is anxious to preserve the good name of Sedalia.

It is not the purpose of this article to take one leaf from the laurels of Marshal DeLong. The DEMOCRAT does not believe this town ever had a more efficient officer, nor one more zealous in the discharge of his duty.

But this tribute to Marshal DeLong is equally deserved by Mayor Stevens.

The mayor has urged upon the marshal the rigid enforcement of the ordinances of the city and the laws for the suppression of crime.

Mayor Stevens insisted that the dramshop law be enforced and that the saloons be closed on Sunday.

Mayor Stevens insisted no longer ago than yesterday that vagrants and idlers be run in, and demanded that this be done under pain of removal of any man on the police force who refused or failed to do his duty.

And Mayor Stevens says now that if any citizen reports any policeman as derelict in duty the charge will be strictly investigated, and if proven the unfaithful officer will be removed.

No man in the city is more anxious to preserve the good name of Sedalia than is Ed. Stevens, and it is simply outrageous that a newspaper shall malign and misrepresent him in order to lay the foundation for future political campaigns.

If any reader of the DEMOCRAT doubts that Mayor Stevens has urged and insisted upon the enforcement of the law, let him interview Marshal DeLong or any member of the police force as to the suggestions and demands of the mayor.

PRESIDENT-ELECT GROVER CLEVELAND gives it out cold and flat that he will consider no application for office prior to his inauguration, and adds in his emphatic way: "Those who under any pretense gain an opportunity to present their applications orally, and those who burden me at this time with written applications, cannot possibly do anything which would so interfere with their chances of success. Written applications will be so little regarded that I doubt if they ever see the files in Washington, for there is no reason or decency in my being overwhelmed with such matters at this time."

SEDALIA is by no means the only place where highwaymen operate. The other night a man was murdered and robbed by foot-pads in Omaha. Sedalia highwaymen are mild-mannered, experienced fellows who simply hold you up, go through your pockets, bid you good-night, and with a bow pass on to the next victim. All classes of Sedalia people are well up in politeness and courtesy.

Ripans Tabules have come to stay.

AMUSEMENTS.

Barlow Brothers Minstrels
Will appear at Woods opera house for a matinee and night engagement on Thursday, Nov. 24. This company numbers over thirty celebrated fun makers, principal of which may be mentioned the acknowledged leader of the comedy firmament, Billy Barlow, that droll and funny fellow who will surely make you laugh; Larry McAvoy in a new specialty; James Barlow will introduce, for the first time here, his latest terpsichorean divertissement comique, "West Point Cadets and Vassar Belles;" Arthur La Bourd, England's famous tenor soloist; the Manhattan Quartette; Rummell, Hudson, Starks and West, and Manager Joseph H. Arthur's latest European importations, "Ferry," and the marvelous Leon Brothers. The sale of seats and boxes is now in progress.

Fanny Rice.
A prominent New York dramatic writer has christened Miss Fanny Rice "America's Queen of Mirth and Music," and the title fits the dainty little lady like a glove.

Miss Rice has made a tremendous hit in the new "Jolly Surprise" this season, and the press and public everywhere are enthusiastic in their praise, all agreeing that the great feature of the entertainment is Miss Rice's novel impersonations of prominent European and American character singers, with the aid of doll figures, in her new London cabinet novelty. Nothing so ex-cruciatingly funny as the song of "The Two Robbers" has been seen or heard on the stage for years.

Several unprincipled imitators have attempted to copy Miss Rice's cabinet novelty, but as her songs and dances are all copyrighted, their efforts have resulted in downright failure. Nobody who sees Fanny Rice's clever performance and observes her great versatility in this scene can imagine her having a successful imitator. Her impersonation of Lottie Collins always brings down the house. Miss Rice will wear some stunning gowns, made for her in Paris last season by Worth and Felix. Wood's opera house Tuesday, Nov. 29.

American Cholera.
From the Daily Revue, Whatcom, Wash. "T. C. Burnett, the democratic candidate for sheriff, was taken violently ill at Clearbrook. He had all the symptoms of Asiatic cholera, and for an hour or two it was feared he would die. They finally gave him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which revived him until a physician arrived." That is precisely what the manufacturers of that medicine recommend for cholera. Send for a physician but give their medicine until the physician arrives. If cholera becomes prevalent in this country next summer this preparation will be in great demand because it can always be depended upon. For sale by Aug. Fleischmann, druggist.

Culpable Carelessness of a Union Pacific Conductor.

SIX MEN KILLED IN THE WRECK.

A Freight Train Resting on a Siding With the Switch Open, Down Which a Passenger Train Comes Thundering.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 23.—Not in several years has a more serious or distressing accident occurred on the Union Pacific than the accident which took place at Alda siding, eight miles west of Grand Island, when express train No. 8, going at the rate of forty miles an hour, crashed into an extra freight train standing on the switch. The passenger train, which was due at Grand Island at 5 o'clock and at Omaha at 10:40, was nearly an hour and a half late, and, striking the grade west of Alda, Engineer McDonald of the passenger train, determining to make up some of the time, pulled the throttle open, with the result as indicated.

The freight engine had been doing considerable switching on the siding, and after the work had been completed the engine was comparatively dead at the head of the siding. The morning was foggy, and, unmindful of danger and resting secure in the thought that the switch was properly placed, the engineer and fireman of the extra waited for the passenger train to rush by, but the switch had not been closed, and the passenger train brought death to four men and fatally wounded three others, through the criminal negligence of the switch tender. The men killed were: J. W. Keeler, conductor of the freight, Grand Island, who leaves a wife and two children.

Barney McDonald, engineer of the passenger, North Platte, who leaves a wife, but no children.

Gus Barrett, engineer of the freight, North Platte, who leaves a wife and three children.

Ira Owens, fireman of the freight, North Platte, who leaves a wife and five children.

The injured are: William Costello, fireman of the passenger, Grand Island, single; frightfully scalded, both ankles fractured. Will probably die.

William Sutherland, brakeman on the freight, Grand Island, single; arm caught in wreck and broken.

A. M. Lyons, mail agent, Kearney, head wounds and leg fractured.

No passengers were injured.

Both engines are a total wreck, while the mail and baggage cars are badly damaged. Inside of half an hour a relief train from Grand Island was on the scene with physicians to look after the wounded, and all passengers and baggage were transferred from the wreck to the relief train which reached Omaha yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Later—Fireman Costello and Brakeman Sutherland died last night. The coroner's inquest developed the fact that Conductor Keeler left the switch open.

ANOTHER BAD WRECK.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—A confusion of train orders occasioned a wreck on the Queen & Crescent road yesterday afternoon. The wreck took place six miles of Derby, a small station sixty miles north of New Orleans. The northbound freight crashed head on into the southbound passenger train and a disastrous smashup resulted. A tramp was killed instantly and Charles Peck, of Chattanooga, Tenn., was fatally injured. Manuel E. Crume, of Livingston, Ala., had a leg broken; E. M. Holland, of this city, was badly but not fatally hurt, and Charles Scott, of Chicago, sustained a sprained ankle.

TWO TRAMPS KILLED.

MERIDIAN, Miss., Nov. 23.—There was another collision between a freight and passenger train near Polarville on the Northeast railroad. Two tramps were killed and some of the train crew badly shaken up.

TO ELIMINATE NEGROES.

A BILL in the Georgia Legislature Which Will Stop Them Voting.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 23.—There was a bill introduced in the legislature yesterday which is bound to attract a great deal of attention throughout the country. If it becomes a law it will practically do away with the negro vote in Alabama.

The bill provides that all persons whose state and county taxes as assessed do not amount to $5 shall not be required to pay the same if it be shown that such person failed to vote at the August and November elections of the previous year.

This is the first attempt in the history of Alabama to legislate against the negro vote. There are not 20 per cent. of the negro voters who pay exceeding $5 per year. At the lowest calculation, 50 per cent. of the negro voters would take advantage of the opportunity to save $5. The negro vote at the last election was 136,000. It is the general opinion that the bill will pass.

Constitutional Amendment Defeated.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 23.—The proposition to call a constitutional convention has been defeated beyond all question. Complete returns show it to have been lost even on the basis of a majority of the votes cast on that proposition, while a majority of all the votes cast at the election would have been necessary. The proposition received 118,694 votes, and 119,983 were cast against it. The total vote of the state was 326,000 or 14,000 more than republican estimates had anticipated. Complete returns have not yet been tabulated on any other question involved in the election.

President-elect Cleveland has left New York for a two weeks' hunting and fishing trip and will be lost to the sight of office holders.

Miss Virginia Thurman, daughter of Allen W. Thurman and granddaughter of Allen G. Thurman, was married to Kelley Cole, of New York.

RAILROAD MILEAGE.

Advanced Position of the United States—
Astounding Increase Since 1880—
Mileage in Other Countries.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The census office has issued a bulletin giving statistics of railway mileage of the world in 1890. It shows that out of a total railway mileage for the world of 370,281 miles, the United States have no less than 163,597 miles, or 44.18 per cent. of the whole, and that the railway mileage of the United States exceeds by 3,493 miles the entire mileage of the Old World—Europe's 136,865 miles, Asia's 18,798 miles and Africa's 3,992 miles making an aggregate of but 159,655 miles. It is interesting to note the astonishing growth of the railway mileage of the United States from the census year of 1880, when there was less than forty miles of railways, up to 1890.

In 1840 the figures were 2,775; in 1850 they had risen to 8,571 miles; in 1860 the total had swelled to 29,919 miles; the census of 1870 showed the mileage to be 49,198 miles; that of 1880 placed the figures at 87,724 miles, while the eleventh census figures gave the astonishing total of 163,597 miles.

The following shows the mileage of the world by countries: Germany, 25,969 miles; Austria and Hungary, 26,467 miles; Great Britain and Ireland, 19,839; France, 22,586; Russia, including Finland, 18,728; Italy, 8,117; Belgium, 8,218; Netherlands, 1,887; Switzerland, 1,929; Spain, 6,127; Portugal, 1,289; Denmark, 1,233; Norway, 971; Sweden, 4,916; Romania, 1,580; Serbia, 327; Greece, 440; Turkey, in Europe, Bulgaria and Roumelia, 1,097; Malta, Jersey and Man, 682; United States, 163,597; British America (Canada), 13,322; Newfoundland, 115; Central America, Guatemala, Salvador, Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Honduras, 559; Mexico, 5,844; United States of Colombia, 231; Cuba, 1,056; Venezuela, 441; Republic of Santo Domingo (eastern part of the island of Hayti), 71; Porto Rico, 11; Brazil, 5,779; Argentine Republic, 5,129; Paraguay, 149; Uruguay, 470; Chili, 1,929; Peru, 994; Bolivia, 106; Ecuador, 167; British Guiana, 22; Asia, 18,798, of which British India supplied 15,837; Japan, 907; China (proper), 124; Africa, 3,992; Australia, 11,137.

WANT RECOGNITION.

Big Four Telegraph Operators and General Manager Ramsey.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 23.—The telegraph operators employed on all the important railway systems are just now bestirring themselves. General Manager Ramsey, of the Big Four, has had a conference with a grievance committee representing the operators employed on that system and will reply to their demands on November 30. Mr. Ramsey is of the opinion that, as is usually the case, the men have asked for more than they really expect to get.

"We met the committee as employees of our company, not as representatives of the Order of Railroad Telegraph Operators," said he, "and as employees we will treat with them. While we know that many of our employees, especially the firemen and engineers, are members of labor organizations, we have never conferred with any of them on any matters relating to compensation except as employees."

Inasmuch as the Order of Railroad Telegraphers demands recognition as a body, the trouble with the Big Four operators may not be so quickly settled as it was with the Queen & Crescent officials, who have agreed to recognize the order.

PLEADING WITH DRUNKARDS.

The Salvation Army Will Devote Saturday Night to That Purpose.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The staff and local officers of the Salvation army held a council of war at Lenox lyceum. The relation of the army to saloons was discussed. It was decided that during the coming year each post in America should have a temperance meeting every Saturday night, which should end at 9 o'clock. After that hour the soldiers and officers were instructed to go on the streets and make a personal appeal to drunkards.

The auditorium of the great Music hall was packed in the evening and many people were turned away. The feature of the evening was the consecration of Baby Booth to the service of God and the Salvation army.

Money Needed For Ordnance.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—At the very beginning of his annual report to the secretary of the navy Commodore Folger, chief of the bureau of ordnance, asks for appropriations aggregating $2,492,643 for the expenses of his bureau next year, but the request appears to be very moderate in view of the achievements of the present year and the promises for the future. The report is decidedly voluminous.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

The discovery has been made that the wheat crop of Minnesota and the Dakotas is many millions of bushels above estimates.

Joseph Moniteu, a clerk in the United States branch mint at New Orleans, has been caught taking one silver dollar out of each bag which passed through his hands.

Officers of the Illinois Steel Co. expect to shut down the steel rail mill at South Chicago December 15 for a period of two or three months. The mill employs about 3,500 men.

Walter Gardner, a negro boy working at a cotton gin near Galveston, was discovered mashed flat between a pressed bale of cotton when the sides of the press were opened to remove the bale.

A wild rumor, said to have been heard in London recently to the effect that William Waldorf Astor had while insane sent dispatches announcing his own death, has been authoritatively denied.

The first chamber of the French court of appeals has handed down its decision in the Deacon case. Judgment was for Mrs. Deacon, and it was ordered that the child, Gladys, be returned to a convent where both parents should be allowed to visit her.

Dandy O. Goes a Fast Mile.

HOLTON, Kan., Nov. 23.—Dandy O., the phenomenal four-year-old pacer, lowered his record at Holton Review driving park yesterday 1 1/2 seconds. The mile was made as follows: One-quarter in 32, one-half in 1:03, three-quarters in 1:32 1/4, finishing in 2:11.

AFTER-DAMP.

Fierce Flames in a Mine Near Scranton, Pa.

BRAVE ATTEMPT TO SUBDUCE THEM.

The Men, However, Fall in the Gangway Overcome By the Gas—They Are Brought to the Fresh Air Unconscious.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 23.—Fierce flames are raging in the workings of the Holden colliery at Taylor, five miles from this city, which are so located as to make almost impossible their extinguishment in any other manner than by flooding the mine.

Last night a force of workmen endeavored to reach the blazing subterranean force, which is 2,000 feet from the bottom of the shaft, but the stifling after-damp which filled the gangway quickly overcame them after they had passed the fresh air ways, and one by one the men fell in the gangway.

Several of them realizing in time the awful danger into which they were treading turned and succeeded in getting to a point where there was fresh air, which enabled them to appreciate the condition of those overcome further on in the gangway. Quickly summoning a rescuing party, and providing themselves with the necessary safeguards, they returned into the gangway, and fourteen prostrated miners were carried out unconscious and more dead than alive. Those in the most serious condition are David Davis, Benjamin Taylor, John Edmunds, Thomas Morgan and Jenkin Harris.

Then another force was formed under Superintendent Davies to try and get a hose upon the fire. In the gangway they went, but as they proceeded they, too, were overcome by the poisonous vapors, and it was only by having men trailing behind them that they were enabled to have rescuers reach them. This time Superintendent Davies, Thomas Hughes, John Fern, Brian O'Hara, John Jeffers, John McAndrew, Fred Tinney, William Dolan, David Evans, Michael Carroll, Henry Lintholt, William Goodman, Inside Foreman Evans and Daniel Williams were carried out so much overcome that the physicians had to work more than an hour on them before they became conscious. Davies, Carroll, Fern, O'Hara and Jeffers are in a miserable condition and their recovery is doubtful.

This is the first instance of suffocation in the mines of this section from this cause since 1883, when eighteen men were killed at Monacaqua, near Schickshinny.

BELLIGERENT BLACK HORSE.

He Will Have to Answer For Slapping Agent Shipley in the Face.

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 23.—Advices from Fort Wingate say that another troop of cavalry had left there for the Carrizozo mountains under orders to arrest the Navajo chief, Black Horse, and bring him to the agency at Fort Defiance.

This will be done, of course, but there may be a reaction before it is accomplished as it is said the big chief declares he will not be taken. It appears that after Black Horse had refused to give up the children of his particular following to Agent Shipley, the agent and chief had a personal encounter, in which Black Horse struck Shipley in the face.

Upon his return to the agency Agent Shipley ordered Black Horse to come in for a conference. The chief declined to do this, hence the troops have been sent after him.

There is some prospect that the ladies of the M. E. mission at Jewell may be brought into the trouble. The Indians positively refuse to give up their children to school at Albuquerque or at Fort Lewis, but they will permit them to go to the mission and be instructed by Mrs. Eldridge and Miss Raymond. The ladies say this is out of the question, as they have more than they can do at present without opening a school for these children.

National Farmers' Congress.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 23.—The twelfth annual meeting of the national farmers' congress opened yesterday. There is a large attendance from all parts of the United States. Much time was spent in preliminary work and listening to addresses of welcome. Gov. Boyd spoke very heartily while welcoming them to Nebraska. There are a number of very fine agricultural displays. Sessions are being held in the senate chamber.

Ed Little Accepts.

ABLENE, Kan., Nov. 23.—E. C. Little telegraphed Secretary of State Foster his acceptance of the Cairo consulsip. He will sail for his post of duty about December 15. It is probable that, anticipating an early removal by Cleveland, he will appoint a deputy here and not resign his office of county attorney to which he has just been elected.

Post Trader's License Revoked.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—James S. Brown, who has been a post trader at Anadarko, in the Kiowa and Comanche country, for six years, will be forced to shut up the shop. His license was revoked because of some violation of the rules of the department. Official information relating to the nature of his offense is withheld.

Baby Perished in the Flames.

GUTHRIE, Ok., Nov. 23.—At Tecumseh, Ok., the home of Charles Edmiston was destroyed by fire. Their nine-months-old child perished in the flames. Mrs. Edmiston, who was at the barn, discovered the fire too late to rescue the child, but it took four men to hold her from rushing into the flames and perishing herself.

Dandy O. Goes a Fast Mile.

HOLTON, Kan., Nov. 23.—Dandy O., the phenomenal four-year-old pacer, lowered his record at Holton Review driving park yesterday 1 1/2 seconds. The mile was made as follows: One-quarter in 32, one-half in 1:03, three-quarters in 1:32 1/4, finishing in 2:11.

REICHSTAG OPENING.

Emperor William Talks of Peace and Calls For More Soldiers.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—The ceremony of opening the session of the reichstag took place in the Knights' hall of the royal palace to-day amid the utmost pomp and splendor. Emperor William read the speech. In referring to foreign affairs, he said:

In view of the friendly relations with all the powers and the consciousness in pursuing a common end we shall continue to enjoy the effective support of the allied states. I cherish the hope that Germany will not be disturbed in her peaceful endeavor to promote her ideal economic interests.

At the same time the development of the military power of other European states imposes on us the serious, nay, imperative duty of strengthening the defensive capacity of the empire by thorough going measures. In the face of these developments it is only by carrying out the principle of universal military service that we may expect these qualities in our army on which its strength and glory are based and which will maintain for Germany the position of honor she has occupied among the powers in the past.

Unusually fired with this conviction, the federal powers propose to vote the adoption of a bill, which, while modifying the peace office, renders possible the utilization of our defensive to its full extent. In this matter you will not fail to recognize the magnitude of the sacrifice of the nation. You believe with me that the necessity for sacrifice will be increasingly recognized and that patriotism of the nation will be ready to assume the burdens must be borne for the honor and the safety of the fatherland.

In order to lighten these burdens and to make possible the period of service in the army will be reduced to the extreme limit which, from a military point of view, can be conceded. At the same time a more extended training and the employment of younger men for military service will not only lessen the much feared inequality in the fulfillment of military service, but will also diminish the economic military disadvantages arising from the older class of men being called to serve. This class will get more relief than they enjoy under the existing system.

In order to enable the federal states to make budgetary provisions for the means required to strengthen the army, it becomes necessary to open up new sources of revenue. With this object in view the bill will be placed before the bundsrath for the further taxation of beer and brandy and also for the further taxation of bourse transactions.

In inviting you to enter upon your labors I know that an appeal to you that you conduct your deliberations in a patriotic spirit is not necessary. The firm will of the nation to safeguard the inheritance of our fathers, to secure peace and to preserve for our fatherland its most cherished possessions, will, I feel confident, lead you to your agreement to the course proposed by me and my high allies. Should this come to pass then the empire may regard the future with any anxiety, trusting in God and its own strength.

THE NATIONAL CURRENCY.

The Farmers' Alliance Wants It Independent of Outside Countries.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 23.—W. R. Robinson, of Texas, a delegate to the national convention of the Farmers' Alliance, has given out the following report of the alliance action regarding the national currency:

Whereas, The constitution of the United States makes it the duty of the federal congress to coin money and regulate the value of the same, and

Whereas, This grant of coinage power to congress is full and specific to render it independent of the constitutional duty of congress to create, control and regulate the value and volume of all money of whatever character used by the American people, and

Whereas, The government of the United States has moved in the matter of an international monetary conference for the adjustment of questions arising solely out of American financial conditions, therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the supreme council of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial union that this course on the part of our government violates the spirit of the Monroe doctrine which we had been taught that European powers should never be permitted to exert any influence in the political organization of any nation on the American continent and be it further

Resolved, That we urge our representatives in congress to protest against foreign nations having anything whatever to do with our financial system and that the entire money question of our country be settled by the American congress, according to the demands of the great masses of the people; and be it further

Resolved, That our members of congress be furnished with a copy of these resolutions.

Monetary Congress Meets.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 23.—The international monetary congress met without formal proceedings in the Palais des Academies, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The grande salle, or marble hall where the delegates hold their meetings, looks out on one side upon the splendid park which is the fashionable summer resort of the residents of Brussels and the Palais de la Nation, where the senate and deputies meet, is just across the park from the royal palace. M. Montefiore Levi, of Belgium, was chosen president of the conference.

Joe Medill's Misfortune.

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 23.—The residence of Joseph Medill, editor of the Chicago Tribune, with its contents, was totally destroyed by fire. The fire was caused by the carelessness of a servant in throwing hot ashes into a pine box back of the house. The loss is about $30,000 and the insurance $20,000. The whole house escaped injury by a hasty flight. Mr. Medill will rebuild immediately.

Exit the Cashier.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—C. Sinclair, cashier and confidential agent of the Armour Packing Co., has been missing since last week. The amount of money taken from his employers' bank account is not known definitely. It is estimated that the company's losses will not be less than $50,000. Some believe the amount will run up to $80,000 or $85,000.

Prohibition For South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 23.—The general assembly met to-day to remain in session thirty days. At the democratic primaries last summer a majority of the people voted for prohibition, and in accordance with this a prohibitory bill will be introduced and passed, as most of the members are pledged to support prohibition.

A Fusion Senator.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 23.—It is now certain that the democratic and people's parties which fused in this state will have a majority on joint ballot in the legislature. The vote for United States senator will be 27 fusion and 22 republican.

Took the White Veil.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 23.—Miss Mary Abell, daughter of the late A. S. Abell, founder of the Baltimore Sun, has taken the white veil at the chapel of the academy of the Visitation in this city. The name that she chose is Sister Mary Joseph.

RAILS THAT LINCOLN SPLIT.

They Still Form a Fence About a Petersburg, Ill., Farm.

Stories of Lincoln are always of interest, says the St. Louis Chronicle, and it seems as if there are few localities in Illinois that do not contain some pioneer who remembers the great emancipator and cherishes a relic of the martyr president. A visit was made the other day to the home of Andrew Simmons, a well-to-do farmer residing near the historic little inland village of Fountain Green, lying near the line of Hancock and McDonough counties. At his home resides Mrs. Simmons' aged mother, Mrs. Miranda Simmons. She is one of the sturdy pioneers of the west.

She came to Illinois from Kentucky when she was 15 years of age and settled with her parents near Petersburg, where she married. They afterwards lived on the Alfred Gordon farm, near Petersburg, the fences of which are to this day composed of the identical rails cut by Abraham Lincoln. Mrs. Simmons gave the reporter an interesting account of Lincoln's famous rail splitting. It seems that while Lincoln was studying law at Petersburg he and a friend named Hanks—the later a relative of Lincoln's mother—who was also studying, boarded at Alfred Gordon's.

This Mr. Gordon was an old friend of the Lincoln family. As Mr. Gordon did not charge the young men any board, they undertook to make rails enough for two farms. So for months Mr. Lincoln and young Hanks put in a part of their time making rails. Mr. Lincoln made most of the rails, and those cut by Hanks were used in fencing a farm owned by the father of Alfred Gordon. Mrs. Simmons remembers Lincoln well as a smart but awkward boy long before he appeared in public life.
